VOL. II. GLENDALE, LOS ANGELES COUNTY, CAL., SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1906. NO. 20

CITY TRUSTEES.

Members present: Parcher, Fanset, Jennings, Anderson.

Demand of R. Verdugo for $27.90 for street sprinkling was read and on motion allowed.

Numerous other bills were brought up for consideration and all except one for electric lights were referred to finance committee.

Matter of establishing grade in Glendale tract was referred to city engineer.

Application of H. C. Ackley to do street work was on motion granted.

Report of city engineer regarding establishing of grade on C street, between Second and Third streets, was on motion laid over for final action.

Chairman appointed Trustee Anderson a committee of one to get sentiment of property owners on J street in regard to establishing grade.

Matter of removing electric light poles from J street was referred to superintendent of streets with power to act.

A Gladsome Sight

There is nothing that adds to the beauty of a town or community so much as substantial and attractive improvements in streets, yards and buildings. In looking over Glendale just now, one cannot help but notice and admire elegant Brand Boulevard and the graded and oiled streets, cement walks and curbs, also the beautiful residences on Orange street and in that part of town. Many beautiful homes are being planned for this part of town and when Glendalia Place has its streets cut through and the sidewalks put down, there will be many choice lots sold to a class of people who will be glad of an opportunity to secure so choice a location to build a beautiful and expensive home. The restrictions in this tract are $2000 and we understand there will be several homes built there that will exceed the restrictions. This part of town has several houses of this class one of the most recently constructed being that of Mr. F. M. Albright. Mr. Albright is building a beautiful two-story residence on Orange street.

And What D'ye Think of This?

We are reliably informed that the owner of a corner lot at Glendale avenue and Fourth street was offered $3000 for same. We believe the owner of this lot purchased the lot less than a year ago for $750. Three thousand dollars looks like a big pile of money for a small lot in a little country town, but there are evidences that Glendale will not be a little country town "when springtime comes, gentle Annie," and $3000 will be a mighty small pile alongside that lovely corner lot—yes indeed, honey.

E. S. Comstock and family, who have been in the east for the past several months returned to Glendale Thursday.

CONSOLIDATION?

Much is being published in the daily papers of Los Angeles in favor of consolidation of city and county, and when we stop to give the matter serious thought it is no wonder Los Angeles is anxious regarding this question.

This beautiful City of the Angels, which is assuming such magnificent proportions, is just now taking a look into the future and the vision therein dimly reflected is giving it considerable uneasiness, and in order to insure protection for itself from this spectre, which is becoming more and more distinct, it is necessary to consolidate with San Pedro and Santa Monica and thereby control the water front and take in the broad acres of the ranchers for taxation to help pay the Owens River water bonds and to give the bonds a ready market.

The thing that is becoming alarming to Los Angeles is the evident intent of the citizens of Long Beach to make a harbor of their own and one which they can control. In order to keep Long Beach from becoming an immense seaport city Los Angeles will certainly have to get a "move on" and have legislation enacted to stop the making of a deep water harbor for the ambitious beach city. The citizens of Long Beach see their opportunity and they are pushing it for all it is worth, and unless some sort of legislation is passed whereby San Pedro can be annexed to Los Angeles, and Long Beach stopped from further dredging for a harbor there will be another aspirant for the state's metropolis, and Long Beach will be that aspirant. The railroad companies are getting wise to the possibility and are seeking franchises throughout the beach town. Long Beach also has a skyscraper or two and others are being planned.

The people of this valley are naturally friendly to Los Angeles, and under ordinary circumstances would favor consolidation, but until the city gets rid of some of its officials, such as Mulholland and Matthews, the men who have taken upon themselves the responsibility of prosecuting one of the most unjust and uncalled for suits to take away the very lives of our people, she need not look to this valley for help or sympathy. If Los Angeles has a legal right to take the water from the ranchers of this valley, let her establish her right by helping to get the matter before the courts of last resort just as soon as possible, instead of allowing Mulholland and Matthews to use the power of a great city to block the way to speedy and final hearing. The people of the San Fernando valley are willing and anxious to help in the development of Los Angeles, but they absolutely refuse to be parties to their own ruination in so doing. The longer the taxpayers of Los Angeles put up with the doings of such fellows as Matthews and Mulholland the fewer friends the city will have among the country people, and unless this inquitous water suit is dismissed, along with its injunction, the true state of affairs will be published to the world at large. The people of this valley will not ally themselves, knowingly, with a set of thieves and tricksters. It's one thing to tell a man you are his friend, when at the same time you are robbing him and his family of a livelihood, but it's another thing to make him believe in your honesty. The people of this valley are not seeking favors from Los Angeles or any of the citys officials, but justice, simple justice, is all they ask.

Re-Opening and a Good Time

The management of the Glendale Skating Rink closed the rink last week in order to make repairs. Besides improving the interior, a roof was put on the rink building, and as the rink is some 120 feet long 50 feet in width, it was no small job, but the work was completed Saturday afternoon in time for the opening that evening. A large crowd was in attendance at the opening and the smooth surface floor was crowded with young people who had come out for an evenings innocent amusement, while many of the old folks attended to enjoy the excellent music and to watch the young folks skate. It was quite noticeable that no rowdyism was indulged in, and those present were of the most respectable families of the community. Yonng people must have a place for innocent amusement and they certainly had nothing else at the Glendale rink on Saturday evening last.

Social Afternoon

One of the enjoyable social affairs of the week was an "At Home" given by Mrs. Oak Tuesday afternoon at her beautiful residence on Second street. The reception hall and living room were each artistically wreathed with the graceful branches of the pepper, while clusters of red berries peeped through the greenery lending rich color to the decorative scheme.

After spending an enjoyable time in social intercourse interspersed with music, the hostess led the way to the dining room. From the chandelier to the corners of the table were suspended rich bands of satin ribbon finished with bows in which were twined the fronds of asparagus plumosis fern. The center-piece of scarlet blossoms, while the place cards were dainty watercolored sketches. The table was laden with the most tempting of viands to which all did full justice. Those present were: Mesdames D. W. Hunt, E. W. Pack, F. C. Hezmalhalch, V. K. Sturges, J. Farrell, R. D. Lamson, G. A. Haskell, O. Oak. Miss M. Shoulters.

As a result of excellent taste shown by the ladies of the board of trustees and the excellent workmanship of Schwemer & Sons, the interior of the Presbyterian church is most satisfactory after its renovation. "Sweetness and light" would express very well the effect produced off the beholder.

The subject of the morning service at the Presbyterian church will be "The Ideal Sabbath of the Twentieth Century." There will be no evening service at this church, the dedication services of the M. E. church calling for union services.

Mrs. C. A. Weidenfeller has been quite ill the past few days.

A VERY DARK PROSPECT.

Mrs. Geo. B. Edwards informs this paper that she has given a ten day option on her five acre place on Second street, the parties holding the option stating that they wanted the property for the purpose of founding a colored orphans home.

While the owners of this property have a legal right to dispose of their property to whomsoever they see fit, still they should remember the old adage of "do unto others as you would that they should do to you." We are sure that the owners of this property would feel that they were very badly treated should some of their neighbors have placed them in the position that they evidently propose to place their neighbors. Glendale doesn't need a negro institution of any character within its confines.

Don't fail to see Miss Lotita Corella and her class of Spanish dancers from the city of Mexico, at I. O. O. F. hall, Glendale, Thursday evening, September 20th.

Monthly Library Report

During August the following contributions have been received at the Glendale Free Library and Reading Room: Fruit from a friend, 75 cents; Rev. C. R. Norton, July contribution, 25 cents; Mrs. Church, four Colliers; Miss Bulkeley, one book; Mrs. Gillette, two books; Prof. Moyse, 113 Youths Companions; Mrs. Barager, two magazines; James Wells, five magazines; Mrs. E. G. Witham, four Cosmopolitans, four Everybodys; Mr. Whitaker, four books; Mrs. Hunt, four Independents; Mrs. Ezra Parker, June and July Harpers; Mrs. Wilbur, 5 Saturday Evening Post, 3 books, 24 miscellaneous magazines, including current numbers of Ladies Home Journal and Ladies World. There were received during August a total of ten books and sixty-seven magazines. A large quantity of literature which has come since the first of September will be reported next month. The regular monthly contributions of money go through the soliciting committee and are not given in this report.

The traveling library which has been loaned during the summer has been returned to Sacramento and a new set of books is expected in a few days.

Patrons of the library are requested to be prompt in returning literature and attention to notices from the library as the work involved in the weekly and monthly local reports, the monthly and annual state report, the receiving and unpacking and the packing and shipping of books is all contributed, there being no funds to apply in these ways.

The board of trustees appreciate the interest expressed in various quarters in the undertaking and hope that funds will be forthcoming to provide adequate room and furnishings for the library and a paid librarian who can give necessary time to the work.

The second quarterly meeting of the Fourth District of the California Library Association will be held at Long Beach on September 28th.

After September 15th the library will be open from four to six oclock on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. LIBRARY SECRETARY.

Fined $30 or Thirty Days.

Pete Salaido, the dirty, low wretch who has been frightening women in different sections of Glendale by indecent exposures of his person, and by attempting assault, was arrested on Monday by constable Catlin and James Croad. The beast's trial was held at Tropico this morning before Justice Melrose and as there was only one witness against him he escaped with a fine of thirty dollars or thirty days.

We understand that there were several women insulted by this brute, and if such is the case, each one of them owe it to themselves and the safety of other women and children to swear out separate warrants against this fellow and have him imprisoned for as long a term as possible.

If this fellow is allowed to regain his liberty and return to this community the women and children will not be safe.

If he is allowed to return here and resume his dirty practices, there may be a case for the coroner, next time.

A Tour of Observation.

Wednesday last, Mr. Wilmot Parcher and J. C. Sherer, were guests of the Pasadena Board of Trade on a trolley ride over about 160 miles of the Pacific Electric Railway system. The party, about 40 in all, consisted of about a dozen members of the Pasadena Board of Trade and a number of guests representing Monrovia, Sierra Madre, Alhambra, Whittier, Long Beach, San Pedro and Santa Ana.

A special car left the Sixth street depot at 10:30, running down to Long Beach and thence down the coast to Huntington Beach, where a stop of 20 minutes was made. Returning by the short route to Los Angeles, they went to Pasadena and partook of dinner at the Hotel Maryland. The repast was in the best style of that celebrated hostelry, and was followed by speeches by Hon. J. A. Goodrich and others which had to be cut short to enable the party to get off again for a dash down to Santa Ana, where they arrived about five o'clock, a considerable portion of the run being made at the rate of a mile a minute over one of the most perfect roadbeds in existence. At Santa Ana, automobiles had been provided and the guests were hurriedly shown over that beautiful and rapidly growing city. The hurried visit to Santa Ana was one of the most interesting features of the day's trip and the visitors were enthusiastic over the progress made in the last year or two by the beautiful and progressive capital of Orange county. They have paved miles of streets with asphalt, own their own water and sewer system, have a beautiful and commodious city hall costing $20,000, and there are many homes which would not appear out of place on Orange Grove avenue, Pasadena. All these things cost money, and they have a pretty high tax rate; but the citizens of Santa Ana are prond of and satisfied with what they have accomplished. It is a city of the fifth class with 8000 people. The party returned to Los Angeles at 7 o'clock. The object of the excursion was to give representatives of the various progressive communities surrounding Pasadena an opportunity to become acquainted, in the hope that they may work out results for the common good and that eventually there may be something like a league of the Boards of Trade.

Ben. E. Ward's campaign for re-election to the office of county assessor has been gaining in momentum until it has become a popular movement on the part of the people regardless of party affiliations. Mr. Ward is known to be an anti-machine Republican who will protect the common people by assessing the corporation on an equal basis with the individual. Reduce your own taxes by returning Ben. E. Ward to office this fall.

Frank Sauer, who has been absent for some time on a business and pleasure trip to Chicago, Indiana, Dakota, Minnesota and other points, returned home Wednesday after a very enjoyable trip. Mr. Sauer says the east seems to go back as speedily as California forges ahead and that to fully appreciate our prosperity we should take a trip back east.

J. L. Overton of the Overton Realty Co., Glendale, expects to start on a two months' visit to his native county Fulton, Mo. Mr. Overton came to Pomona twenty-one years ago, where he lived twelve years, and all the twenty-one years in sight of Los Angeles county. At a recent meeting of the Missouri Society at Pomona, of the 400 present 100 were from Callaway County, of which Fulton is the county seat.

F. W. McIntyre met with a serious accident on Thursday afternoon. Mr. McIntyre, in company with Mr. F. A. Gilkey, was driving Mr. McIntyre's spirited pacer along Brand Boulevard and were going at a very good gait, when the shaft of the buggy became detached from the running gear of the bugoy, frightenidg the horse and causing Mr. McIntyre to lose control of the animal, and the buggy tilted throwing Mr. McIntyre violently to the ground. But Mr. Gilkey was more fortunate, in that he climbed over the buggy seat and dropped from the rear of the buggy, sustaining a number of cuts and bruises. The horse, freed from all restraint, made a run of about a mile and a half, in quick time, too, when it was caught, and upon examination it was found that no damage had been done to either horse or vehicle. Mr. McIntyre was picked up by Charlie Sternberg and immediately brought home and medical aid summoned. Beyond a severe contusion of the hip and a great shock, Mr. McIntyre suffered no further injury, but these will be sufficient tc keep him in doors for several weeks.

The C. Ganahl Lumber Co. are so well pleased with the business in this city that they gave their manager, Mr. Edgar W. Pack, two weeks vacation. Mr. Pack and wife left to-day for Lake Tahoe and will spend a week there. Mr. Garton Ganahl from the East Los Angeles yard will have charge during Mr. Pack's absence.

Fifty members of the Xopeia private dancing club were entertained by the Rice Bros. After enjoying an evening of real sport the party left on the last car for their homes.

The Valley Saddle Club took a trip to Verdugo Park Sunday afternoon. On their return they were entertained at tea by Miss Margerete Kirkby at her home on Lomita Ave. The club has been recently organized and has among its members: Misses Margerete Kirkby, Evalena Ayers. Catherine Seaman and Flora Chandler; Messrs. Clay Seamen, Oliver Merrill and Edward Weston.

The widowed ladies of Tropico have been having a glorious time in the absence of their better halves who went automobling to Frisco. But doesn't it seem strange, even though they are "having the iime of their lives," not one, (if asked on the Q T) will deny that they are glad that the worthless men are expected to return today. We all remember the old saying, "You never miss the water 'till the well runs dry," and from all appearances it seems that that is certainly the case in this instance.

WHAT ABOUT SAN. FERNANDO VALLEY WATER?

It seems that in the midst of an almost universal demand for saneness in business and civic honesty among men that no city would attempt to pauperize thousands of people who are diligently and honestly engaged in raising food for the people of the city. I believe that if the true condition of the rights of the people of the San Fernando valley were placed before every citizen of Los Angeles the sense of justice would be so quickened that the efforts of Mulholland and his coterie would be quickly shut off and the city pumps would be lifting water as they should.

It is certainly reasonable that the people of this valley desire to see Los Angeles go on to become the greatest city on this coast. We all want this; but can she afford to stretch herself by killing the country that produces one-third of the vegetables and fruits her people consume? We desire to see but one government for city and county—we favor consolidation, but only when the city shall call off the men who are threatening us with their clanking chains or dryness—who are constantly excusing themselves for letting us use the water that Providence put in the soil we honestly purchased and paid for.

Supposing Los Angeles despoils the San Fernando valley, can she prevent the thousands of newspapers east and north from telling the story of the outrage in every family? If the people learn that Los Angeles has done this, will not the "tourist crop" go glimmering like the mists before the noonday sun? Los Angeles cannot afford to lift herself up by killing the San Fernando valley. Of course the claim may be set up that she must dump Owens River into the sands of the Tejunga and filter out the alkali, then pump the sweetened stuff up for her people, and the farmers can do the same for their thirsty sands and raise crops, and "best of all," help pay the city water bonds. In short, Mr. Mulholland, deep down in this scheme, is not this the prime motive? Is not the effort to take, without remuneration, the water of the San Fernando valley, to compel the ranchers to buy your Owens River water? Why did you not proceed to condemn land, put in pumps and pay for what belongs to the farmers? Why did a judge have to make Los Angeles River from two to twenty miles wide when Providence made it less than half a mile in width? A judge who can make such big rivers is a dangerous man. Now, be fair, for we are just opening the great big door of "Square Deal" in these United States and that door cannot be swung off its hinges by any trick or device. The people, "the very dear people," are alive to every sense of fairness.

M. M. ESHELMAN.

A most delightful evening was spent and a program consisting of musical selections and recitations was rendered. The especial feature of the evening was a talk by E. D. THE CITY'S "WISE GUYS."

City's Officials Recommend Owens River Scheme Without Knowledge.

That great "calamity howler," the Examiner, came out on Tuesday of this week with an alleged expose of a scheme on the part of the Southern Pacific Railroad, through its "alleged" agent, George Chaffey, to build a railroad from Owens Valley to connect with either the Southern Pacific or Santa Fe main lines. As this railroad proposition has direct connection with the Owens river water scheme, and as the people of the San Fernando valley are most vitally interested in Los Angeles' schemes for securing a permanent water supply, we give Mr. Chaffey's version of the railroad proposition as it appeared in the Los Angeles Evening News on Wednesday of this week, and the especial attention of our readers is directed to that part of Mr. Chaffey's communication headed, "No Other Filings Made," and under that heading the reference to the city's representatives not filing on the waters of various side streams which flow into Owens river. The natural conclusion is that if the city is lacking in any rights in the Owens valley it is because of the lack of ability and intelligence of its representatives, Eaton, Mulholland and the Water Board. This paper is not prepared to pass upon the ability of Mr. Eaton or members of the Water Board other than Mr. Mulholland, but we certainly have produced evidence of the latter's unfitness to represent a great city like Los Angeles. The sooner the city gets rid of such incompetents as Mulholland the better it will be for the taxpayers in general.

The following is Mr. Chaffey's communication as it appeared in the Evening News:

Board of Water Commissioners have received the following communication from George Chaffey, projector of the Los Angeles and Owens Valley Railroad:

To the Honorable the Board of Water Commissioners of the City of Los Angeles—Gentlemen: Our plans in Owens valley being now publicly announced and their nature and purposes being apparent, we respectfully ask the withdrawal of the opposition at Washington, to which you have just given official approval in the resolutions adopted by your honorable board last week.

We refer this request because Los Angeles will be vastly more benefited by the carrying out of our plans than if possibly can be by seeking to thwart them. Because we have not been in conflict with the city's plans for water acquisition in Owens valley, as heretofore announced, and as executed during the last two years, at any point save on Cottonwood creek, where we have long stood ready, at the sacrifice of personal interests, to give Los Angeles what Mr. Mulholland has said it wants. Because we see no reason why, after acquiring enough water for a city of from two to three million inhabitants, your honorable board should now declare in favor of reaching out for yet additional water, needlessly, to the detriment of other plans undertaken in good faith and in ignorance of the city's project, which have meantime matured. Because protests and requests to officials at Washington and the favorable action of such officials thereon, can in nowise accomplish the purpose, which your honorable board has avowed, of forfeiting private property rights which have been acquired and are held under the laws of the State of California, however willing such officials might be to accomplish that end.

Purpose of Protests.

Aside from this, we believe that the protests filed at Washington, bluntly regarded, seek to accomplish nothing else than a plain act of confiscation, so repugnant to all sense of justice that I am sure no member of this honorable board would countenance anything of the sort in the interest of his private or personal affairs. It is not from alarm over the security of the rights thus assailed that this communication is written. It is because we realize the futility of the course upon which your honorable board has been advised, and deplore the long and needless conflict, and the profitless expenditure of energy, which might better be devoted by us all to the welfare of our city, that we now address your honorable board in straightforward manner, seeking a mutual understanding and harmony of action.

In addition to the withdrawal of the Washington protests against our rights of way we ask, on behalf of the Los Angeles & Owens Valley Railroad that, in common with other property owners in Owens valley, the city give a right of way 100 feet wide across city property in the valley.

We also ask the moral support and encouragement of the city administration and every official therein, just as we ask the sympathy and support of all progressive citizens of Los Angeles.

Finally, we ask for a frank attempt to come to some agreement for such of our property as your board shall finally decide that the city needs, in lieu of the present proceedings before Federal officials, who have no power whatsoever to take away property we have lawfully acquired pursuant to the laws of the State of California.

Planned in Good Faith.

This matter seems of sufficient importance to warrant a complete statement at this time of everything bearing upon our project from its inception with particular reference to its possible relation to the proposed city conduit. In so doing I shall hope incidentally to satisfy you that our plans were undertaken in good faith, and in entire ignorance of the city's great project; and further, that had we known of the city's project and been imbued with the most patriotic desire to avoid conflict therewith, we could not possibly have better succeeded in doing so.

I.

INCEPTION AND NATURE OF PLANS.

Referring first to the inception and nature of our plans, I have to say that it was on or about March 17th of last year that Mr. Jewitt first brought the project of water and power development in Owens valley to my attention. We then arranged to take a vacation trip to the valley in the following summer, and meantime to have filings made on some of the principal streams. Papers, drawn up in April, 1905, by my attorney, for right on Cottonwood creek were not used until June 24th, because we thought we were alone in our knowledge of the value of this stream for power and irrigation purposes. At that time we secured the waters of Cottonwood creek and the reservoir site at the head of the creek. July 19th Independence and Shepherd's creeks were filed on, and Lone Pine July 21st. July 31st Mr. Jewett and I made additional filings on Cottonwood, and a day or so later on George's creek. All these filings were immediately recorded, and my statements can be verified from the official records of Inyo county. It was not until August 1st or 2d (it takes about three days for Los Angeles mail to reach the valley) that we saw the Los Angeles Times of July 29th, containing the news of the city's project; and that was absolutely the first intimation or suspicions either of us had of the city's plan.

Upon that trip we became enthusiastic over the possibilities of a railroad built south from Owens valley so as to furnish direct rail connection with Los Angeles, either via Southern Pacific or Santa Fe. The valley is exceptionally fertile, and its latent agricultural possibilities are very great. The finest apples in California are grown there. In addition to this it has very great mineral resources. Several of its mines have proved so rich that forty-odd years ago it was profitable to transport the ore by pack trains from Olancha, near Owens lake, all the way to this city. Cheap power and adequate railroad facilities would be a great boon to that region and of inestimable benefit to this city.

Portion Sparsely Settled.

While the upper portion of the valley, i. e., that part above the city's intake, is quite extensively cultivated, the lower portion, from Independence south (and all of it below the point of intended diversion of the city water) is but sparsely settled, and contains much fertile land capable of intensive agriculture and of supporting a considerable population when the irrigating methods familiar to us in Southern California are applied to it. The irrigation of this land could have no possible detrimental effect upon the city's water supply.

Our plans, therefore, assumed a three-fold aspect:

(1) A railroad to connect the valley with Los Angeles, to which it is geographically, and should be commercially tributary.

(2) The development of electric power and its use for operating the proposed railroad; also for municipal and commercial uses in the valley; also for use in adjoining mines and mining districts.

(3) The salvage and piping of waste water according to Southern California methods, and the reclamation of arid lands in Owens valley therewith.

II.

There is no conflict between our plans and those of the city, as heretofore announced, except on Cottonwood, where they have already offered Mr. Mulholland what he says he wants.

In this connection I will first consider the city's water, as distinguished from its power plans.

At the time of the announcement of the city's project there was not a single point at which any of our filings conflicted with its water purchase. With the exception of one ranch on Cottonwood, the city's purchases were all riparian to the Owens river, and our filings were not concerned with Owens river at all. The city's intake was at Charley's Butte; our filings were all not only on side streams, but farther down the valley. It is true that August 10, 1905, Mr. Eaton made a filing near the mouth of Cottonwood, but this was plainly an afterthought, and not regarded as part of the project in chief. It was considerably subsequent in time to ours. Hence the conflict on Cottonwood was of the city's making and not of ours. Later the city abandoned the work undertaken for the purpose of making this filing valid in law, and while matters were in that condition, upon the statement of Mr. Mulholland to Mr. Jewett that the city wanted the flood waters of Cottonwood for storage purposes, the latter at once stated that that could be arranged without difficulty.

No Other Filings Made.

Upon none of the other streams had any filing of any kind been made on the city's behalf prior to the resolution adopted by your board last week. Mr. Eaton, one of the most expert authorities on water rights in California, was in Owens valley for the better part of a year prior to public announcement of the city's plan, studying the situation on behalf of your honorable board, purchasing and securing options upon the water and water-bearing and riparian lands that the city desired. For a year since that time city officials have been engaged in closing these various options and purchases of water and lands, pursuant to the mandate of the voters at the special bond election in September, 1905. If the city wanted or contemplated the use of these various side streams below its intake, the very first and easiest step in its whole campaign of water acquisition would have been to have filed upon them two years ago. It was not done. The conclusion would be a grave and unwarranted reflection upon the ability and intelligence of Mr. Eaton, in the first place, and afterward upon every official of the water department.

I call attention to the fact that from the very first announcement of the city's project the matter of water acquisition has always and invariably been treated as an accomplished fact. Every taxpayer in this city will bear me out in that statement. No one connected with the city administration, directly or indirectly, and no civic body has ever stated that the city needed this water which we appropriated, until the adoption of the resolution of your honorable board last week. If this change of policy is to be adhered to, if the board shall remain of the opinion that it now needs additional water and power rights, which it permitted a year ago to pass into other hands and become the basis of separate plans, does it not seem to you, gentlemen, that there are fairer ways of seeking that end than the one that has been adopted?

Frank Statement Wanted.

We had stated privately to individual members of the board, prior to the adoption of the resolution, that we should appreciate a frank statement of what, if anything, we had that the city wanted, in order that we might seek some fair basis of adjustment. Your resolution of last week was your only reply.

It is true, of course, that prior to your resolution, and as long ago as last June, we were made to realize the existence of secret opposition to our applications at Washington. Mr. Jewett then discovered a particularly despicable piece of personal intrigue used to defeat our applications, by an individual whose methods nothing could persuade me had then or have now the sanction or approval of this board. Later, we were obliged to ask an amendment to the city bill introduced into Congress for the purpose of granting a right of way for the great conduit, but so worded in its original form that it might have deprived us of the enjoyment of everything we had. We then asked and obtained such amendment of the bill as was necessary; and when this was agreed to by the city's representatives, and incorporated in the act, as passed, we believed that the opposition manifested had been satisfactorily settled and had, perhaps, never been really intended.

In this connection, permit me to quote from that act, passed at the instance of the city and for its benefit, and which is the law that must control the officials of the executive department, to whom your request for a confiscation of our rights and a substitution of the city's claims is addressed.

In section three the act forbids the grant of any of the rights of way to the city of Los Angeles over homesteaded lands or lands covered by mining claim, except upon compensation paid, and then proceeds with the proviso that:

"This act shall not apply to any lands embraced in rights of way heretofore approved under act of congress, nor affect the adjudication of any pending applications for rights of way by the owner or owners of existing water rights, and no private right, title, interest or claim of any person, persons, or corporation, in or to any of the lands traversed by or embraced in said right of way shall be interfered with or abridged, except with the consent of the owner or owners or claimant or claimants thereof, or by due process of law, and just compensation paid to such owner or claimant."

I call attention to this act, not for the purpose of recalling the agreement made with Mr. Jewett and our representatives in Washington at the time of the act's passage, and almost immediately violated, but because I cannot believe that your honorable board fully understood the facts and circumstances and the legal considerations bearing upon the situation with which your recent resolution is concerned.

Absence of Evidence.

With reference to the heretofore announced plan of the city for power, it seems to me that there is also an entire absence of any evidence of conflict between our project and that of the city. In the original announcement and discussion of the Owens valley enterprise nothing whatever was said about developing power upon any Owens valley streams except, perhaps, Cottonwood. The failure of Mr. Eaton and Mr. Mulholland to make the filings for power which are legally necessary, makes it plain that nothing of the sort was originally contemplated as part of the city plans. Later the immense quantity of power that could be developed along the conduit line near the point of discharge into San Fernando valley was suggested and I think adopted. The fact that 80,000 to 90,000 horse power ultimately will be produced on the conduit at this end, in permanent competition with which it would not pay the city to transmit power over 250 miles from Owens valley, renders it plain that electric power stations in Owens valley would only be possible and useful during the short time that construction work is in progress. After that they would be virtually useless, except for small pumping purposes during brief portions of the year, for the city has not the legal right or capacity to go into the business of selling power in Owens valley and Southern Nevada. Mr. Mulholland has himself stated to me that the only power the city would desire to develop in the Owens valley was enough for construction uses, the amount being estimated by him at 800 horsepower.

Would Mean Waste.

Now, plainly, it would be highly wasteful for this city to undertake the heavy initial expense of a power plant for that purpose and for that quantity of power. We, and doubtless other companies, would gladly furnish 800 horsepower, for even ten years, at a price below the initial cost of such a plant.

In view of the legal limitations upon the total of bonded indebtedness that may be incurred by this city and the practical considerations which make it imperative that the entire undertaking be provided for by a single bond issue, I take it that your honorable board will welcome every device and every aid toward the elimination of items of cost that may as well be avoided.

III.

There is no occasion now to broaden the city's plans so as to create a conflict.

If, as I believe has been shown in the preceding portion of this communication, there has heretofore been no conflict of interests except on Cottonwood, the question is, what has occurred to justify the broadening of the city's plans so as now to create a conflict. I do not desire to dwell upon what we believe to be the injustice of the resolutions. This communication is written in the hope and belief that fuller knowledge of our plans, and direct evidence of our willingness to make all reasonable concessions in the interests of harmony and our common welfare, will result in their withdrawal.

The substance of the resolution is that the city will "require in connection with the construction and operation of said aqueduct, and in connection with its proposed water and power system, all the waters of said creeks (i. e., Oak, George's, Independence, Shepherd's, Lone Pine and Cottonwood among others), not already in use under appropriations, and all power that it is practicable to develop from said creeks," and that therefore "the city should at once take steps to acquire all waters of said creeks not already in use under appropriations and the right to use the waters of said creeks for the generation of electrical "requests the said department of agriculture to reject and deny all applications of private individuals or corporations now pending or hereafter presented for rights of way for private purposes in connection with the waters of said creeks or any of them."

I make no point of the fact that this resolution requests the department of agriculture to go directly contrary to the expressed legislation of congress upon this very matter and as contained in the city's act, and that therefore the department cannot legally comply with it.

Surplus Lawfully Appropriated.

I make no point of the fact that the surplus water upon these streams is already lawfully appropriated under the laws of California, and that neither the department of agriculture nor any branch of the federal government has any power to accomplish a confiscation of private property.

I make no point of the fact that this resolution, adopted two years after the city's plans were undertaken, tends to convict Mr. Eaton and Mr. Mulholland and your honorable board itself of gross negligence in the discharge of their duties and in the carrying out of the plans of the city. Certainly this is a harsh and I think unwarranted imputation upon all, and especially upon Mr. Eaton, whose zeal in the city's behalf was so largely instrumental in procuring for Los Angeles its splendid water holdings.

The question which, as a citizen and taxpayer, keenly interested in the success of the city's project, I now ask is, does the city in fact require all this surplus water and all this power, after ignoring it for two years? Are we, in the fact of repeated assurances that there was but one point of conflict and that on Cottonwood, and after a year passed in maturing our plans, now to be held up to public condemnation as obstructionists, because it turns out that the water board and its officials have been mistaken in the plans and estimates and purchases to which the last two years have been devoted?

I can scarcely believe that the public exigency is so great as to warrant such a conclusion at this time. Yet, if it is really so, we have sufficient loyalty as citizens of Los Angeles to make great concessions.

But what of the facts in the case. Your honorable board in August of last year officially estimated the mean water flow acquired through Mr. Eaton's purchase to be 20,000 miners inches. Mr. Mulholland's figures were 2,000 inches, and enough for a city of from two to three million inhabitants. Taking the estimate of per capita use contained in the protest recently filed in Washington, the figures show a supply sufficient for a city of two million inhabitants—more people than are now living in the entire state of California. Your honorable board further correctly pointed out in its official communication to the city council in August, 1905, that the period of high water in Owens valley is during June, July and August, when water is most needed here; so that while the figures would show enough for two millions of people, practically there would be enough to suffice for three millions.

Pride in City's Growth.

It would seem that we of this generation will be doing very well for our successors in providing for them along such ample lines. I take the same patriotic pride in the growth of Los Angeles as does this honorable board, yet am aware of no recent occurrences calculated to enlarge our horizon beyond the three million point.

I have the same difficulty in understanding what recent developments can have occasioned the further declaration, coming two years after the city enterprise was started, that Los Angeles will need all the power that can be developed upon a half dozen or more streams in Owens valley, situated 250 miles away. It cannot be that the necessities of construction demand it. It cannot be that the city plans to supply power to the mines and mining camps of Inyo county and Southern Nevada. It cannot be that it plans to transmit such power 250 miles to Los Angeles to compete with the 80,000 or 90,000 horse power that will be developed by the city at Pacoima.

The city of Los Angeles will be more benefited by the carrying out of our projects than by thwarting them, even if that were possible.

It has seemed to us in view of the foregoing that there exists no reason at all why your honorable board, though inspired by the most commendable public zeal, should attempt to thwart our Owens valley plans. But if we are wrong in this, if there do exist some far away benefits of which the city will be deprived by the existence of our undertakings, I would ask the board to weigh those possible benefits against the very obvious and direct benefits that will result to this city from the execution of our plans. It is not our railroad and other enterprises that we ask to have weighed against the city's great project. That is not the issue or the alternative. It is only the possible benefit of a little additional water and a little additional far away power (assuming for the moment that their confiscation is possible), that are to be considered, as against the opening of additional back country that will be tributary to this metropolis of the southwest and benefit every property owner in Los Angeles. Cities that have progressed have ever been those whose citizens had a broad outlook, grasping the economic and strategic possibilities of position, alert to develop the resources of outlying as well as adjacent territory, ever widening and extending the highways of municipal commerce. For these qualities the people of Los Angeles have in the past been conspicuous, and it is through such eyes that we ask this board to view our undertaking now that it has been made public, and to consider and act upon the requests that are contained in this communication.

I have the honor to be, yours respectfully,

GEO. CHAFFEY.

THE BUTTE VALLEY.

The valley is twelve miles wide by twenty long and apparently as level as a floor, but with good drainage to the north.

It was once the bed of a great lake which has left one of the richest of soils. It is a dark soil with clay and gravel sub-soil. It is surrounded with mountains and timber of the finest.

Lumber will be plenty at $8.00 and $12.00 a thousand, which will be a great advantage to settlers. Fuel will be plenty for almost nothing.

We drank water from several wells only twelve to fifteen feet deep, pure and soft as snow water, and no trace of alkali in it.

While it is only forty miles from Mt. Shasta, at an elevation of 4,000 feet, and an occasional snow of eight to ten inches, ice seldom forms thick enough to put up for summer use. In fact, we would say mild winters and pleasant summers.

The many springs of pure mountain water running into the valley are most refreshing to the traveler. The fine garden of Mr. Prather's was an inspiration to us all. We will long remember the pleasant evening spent with Mr. and Mrs. Prather and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Massie here at the foot of the mountain, and were wishing we could remain a month in the fresh mountain air, and catch some of the fine mountain trout and black bass with which the streams are well stocked.

Right here we wish to say that the town sites and also the whole 30,000 acres of land which J. P. Massie & Co. are selling here in the Butte valley will be deeded so no saloons can be opened thereon. This means much to any one raising a family.

After a four hours' ride back over the mountains we were again ready to take the train at Montague, Cal., for San Francisco, Los Angeles and home to Lanark, Ill.

These lands lie 300 miles north from Sacramento on what will soon be the main line from Sacramento to Portland via Klamath Falls. Timothy, red top, red clover and alfalfa abound to perfection. Grains and fruits do well. Apples are delicious. The first 10,000 acres at $25 per acre are about sold. The second 10,000 at $30 and the third 10,000 at $35 per acre. Electricity cheap for light and power. Fish, ducks and geese in multitudes. Fuel free in mills nearby. Lumber $8 to $12 per thousand. Land uniform in quality; no gravel or stone to be found. Water pure, soft, cool at 7 to 10 feet. To see is to buy. The Tropico Investment Realty and Improvement Co., Eshelman and Muller, Tropico, are agents for these lands.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC WORK.

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that at its meeting held Wednesday, the 25th day of July, 1906, the Board of Trustes of the City of Glendale adopted an Ordinance designated as Ordinance No. 20, declaring its intention to order the following improvement to be made, to-wit:

The opening of a street 60 feet in width extending from the Northerly boundary line to the Southerly boundary line of the City of Glendale, and

OWENS RIVER ROAD IS INCORPORATED.

Electric Line Will Run From Los Angeles to Head of Valley.

The Los Angeles and Owens River Railroad Company filed articles of incorporation at the county clerk's office yesterday.

The capital of the company is $10,000,000. Of this amount $360,800 has been subscribed. Ten per cent of the amount has been paid into the treasury.

The directors named for the first year are William J. Hunsaker, A. M. Chaffey, S. P. Jewett, George Chaffey and George B. Reeve. An election of officers is to be held next week, when a president will be named.

Articles of incorporation provide that the company may select steam, electricity or compressed air for motive power. The directors have already decided upon electricity.

It is planned to have the route of the railway to run from this city to the head of Owens River valley. The distance which the road will cover is said to be 328 miles. It is planned to have the work of building the road start from a terminus in Inyo county.

William Mulholland, superintendent of the Los Angeles water department, was asked last evening what effect the new company would have on the Owens River water system.

"None whatever," Mr. Mulholland replied.

"What does the company want of a railway up the valley?"

"You've got me; I can't see for the life of me."

"Does the company expect that the city will use it in getting its supplies up for building of the conduit?"

"Not much; the city will have a railway of its own if it wants it. No, that isn't it. It's a colonization scheme. This crowd has been at work on it for a long time. Chaffey and others have bought a lot of land near Indepedence and they are planning a colonization enterprise."

"Where is the power coming from?"

"Why they have filed on a half dozen or more creeks. They have filed way up on Cottonwood creek. Then they have power and water from Oak, Sheppard and Independence creeks. These are all private creeks, and they have got power there."

"Will they interfere with the city's plans?"

"Not a bit. They can't do it. Whenever they attempt take any of our water or power we stop them at Washington. They can't bother us and we are not paying any attention to them except when they get too near us. Our understanding with Washington authorities will prevent them getting anything we need or are looking for."—Examiner.

EAGLE ROCK

Mr. and Mrs. Lue spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Parker.

Mrs. G. E. Meyers entertained the Shakespeare Club Tuesday at her home in Highland Park.

Miss Lousia Mepeck of Los Angeles was the guest of Miss Katherine Duncan last Thursday.

Miss Eva Dickinson spent a couple of days at the home of Prof. and Mrs. Guilford of Los Angeles during the early part of the week.

The showing made by this district in regard to high school pupils this year is very good considering the number of families which have moved away. There are two that are entered for the first time and three who are more advanced.

The Los Angeles railway is pushing the work on the second track into the valley. At present only a single track extends from the Verdugo Road to Townsend avenue, and the Improvement Association has been waiting for the completion of the railroad before they grade the main streets.

Bond Election

The people of Eagle Rock valley showed their public spiritedness Wednesday by unanimously voting for bonds for the erection of a $10,000 school house. There were seventeen votes cast and all were for the bonds. The plans for the building have not been completed and the style of building has not been decided on, but work will be rapidly pushed forward on it.

UNANIMITY OF PURPOSE.

The union services which have been held by the Methodist, Presbyterian and Baptist churches during the past several weeks, is an evidence that the different Protestant denominations are laying aside small differences, such as creeds, etc., and stepping out upon a broader plane and worshiping God in a reasonable manner. All worshipers of the Protestant faith receive their instructions from the same Bible and their differences are only in the manner of interpretation. From the way in which the different denominations are getting together in the last few years it begins to look as if the time is not far distant when the honest members of the various denominations will join forces. If this should ever come to pass there would be no blocking the onward march of so formidable a host. Unanimity of purpose of the citizens of a community in a business way always brings success, as is evidenced in Los Angeles, Long Beach, Pasadena, Hollywood and other progressive communities. Glendale's churches have set a good example for the business men of Glendale to follow. Cut out petty differences and let's all work together for the common good.

COME AND LET US REASON TOGETHER.

Glendale, Cal., Sept. 14, 1906.

Editors Glendale News:

Gentlemen—The article in your last issue, "The Public Library," signed by "An Interested Resident," touches upon a matter that is of much greater importance, I fear, than the casual reader or even its writer fully realizes. Such a movement, if carried to its conclusion, would mean an endless and almost incomprehensible benefit to this city and its people, young and old. Yes, I am ready to be one of the ninety-nine to furnish ten dollars and even much more if such an enterprise can be organized along broad and proper lines.

But my time and your valuable space is too limited to admit of a full and fitting discusion of this most important matter in the columns of The News.

Let us have a public meeting at an early date and talk the matter over face to face. Some one suggest the time and place. On with the good work. Earnestly,

J. C. B.

The editor of The Glendale News will add another $10 to this worthy project. Next.

CENTRAL MARKET.

R. F. Lynn, who until recently lived in Burbank, has opened up a first-class market in the Masonic block on Brand Boulevard, having bought the fixtures formerly used by Mr. Dodsworth at the same place. Mr. Lynn has had much business experience and can be depended upon to deal uprightly with the public at all times. An order wagon will be run in connection with the business and a first-class butcher will be in charge of the shop at all hours of the day. Mr. Lynn will have fresh eastern oysters at all times and will make a specialty of fresh fish on Fridays. That Mr. Lynn intends to make every effort in reason to please the public is evidenced by his determination to carry everything that goes with the butcher business. Give the new market a trial.

REALTY SALES.

The Overton Realty Co. report the following sales:

Lot 12, block 1, Orange Grove tract, to L. K. Krukow, for $600.

Lot on C street, between Third and Fourth, to Mrs. Nettie Talbot, for $500.

Lots 23, 24 and half of 25 in Orange Grove tract, to Geo. F. Dair, consideration, $1050.

Lot 11, block 3, Orange Grove tract, to A. R. Taylor, for $425.

Eleven acres fronting on Verdugo road and running east, owned by Fred L. Sexton, sold to L. Madill for $8500 cash. Mr. Madill expects to build a fine residence on east part, which overlooks the valley.

New Peoples Theater

A dollar show at cheap prices is the verdict of the large crowds that attended the Peoples Theater every afternoon and evening to see "The Inside Track" in five acts and eight scenes. "The Paymaster," a drama of English army life is the bill for the week commencing Sept. 16th. More amusement is given for the money than ever offered before in the history of theatricals in Los Angeles, and the public show their appreciation by the enormous business being done every afternoon and night.

Pomeroy-Boyd Nuptials

An interesting wedding was that of Miss Beulah May Pomeroy and Orville Ray Boyd, solemnized Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Pomeroy.

The home and gardens without were lit with Japanese lanterns and within showy blossoms and greenery were combined with graceful effect. Mrs. Will Hoist assisted Mr. and Mrs. Pomeroy in decorating. In the reception room pink roses were combined with green, and in the dining room red and green carried out the floral effect. White blossoms and greenery were used in profusion in the room where the ceremony took place. The couple stood on a rug of white astors and asparagus fern and beneath a floral bell from which extended streamers of green and white.

The bridal party entered the room to the strains of Mendelssohn's rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bley. Rev. F. Pomeroy, grandfather of the bride, performed the ceremony, the ring being used which was deeply impressive. Mr. Pomeroy preceded the bridal party, followed by the bride and groom, following them came Miss Helen Escherick of Los Angeles and Mr. Fletcher Pomeroy, jr., of Burbank. "I Promise Me," was softly played during the ceremony.

The bride was attired in a princesse gown of white, trimmed with Valenciennes lace and lilies of the valley in her hair, and her bouquet was of white carnations, tied with long ribbon bows. Miss Helen Escherick, the bridesmaid, wore a dainty gown of white organdie and carried a great cluster of carnations. Fletcher Pomeroy acted as best man.

The groom's present to the bride was a ring made of Italian gold, which was worn by Mr. Boyd's grandmother and handed down from family to family. The bride's present to the bridesmaid was a gold bracelet and to the best man a signet ring.

After the ceremony a dainty wedding feast was served in the dining room, while the bride slipped away and reappeared in her travelling suit of green with hat to match.

The bride and groom left for a trip to Santa Barbara, and will be at home to their friends after October 1, at Burbank.

The bride was one of Burbank's most popular young ladies, and the groom has lived here a couple of years and is an honest and industrious young man, he having come to Burbank from Pittsburg, Penn.

The guests present were the O. F. F. Club, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Tubbs, Mr. and Mrs. Escherick, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Firth, Dr. S. S. Black and wife, Rev. F. and Mrs. Pomeroy, Rev. J. H. and Mrs. Avery, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Pomeroy, Mr. and Mrs. A. Bley, Mrs. E. Hoist, Miss Lena Shultz, Messrs. Earle Anderson of Los Angeles, Quest of North Glendale, Fletcher Pomeroy, Will Hoist, Paul Bley, Earle Dufur, Johnnie Hoist and Carl Escherick.

Tainted Money

What is "tainted money" anyhow? Here is a dollar bill that has found its way to the church this morning and presents itself at the altars of worship with the offering. Look at it! Where have you been all last week, old dollar bill? 'Well, I've been going about doing good, for the most part I have bought food for the hungry and helped to pay rent for the poor. I came to town Monday with a poultry rancher and got a smell of live poultry on me. He bought some commercial fertilizer with me, and I took on a new taint of phosphates and acids. That man paid his butcher with me and I got a suggestion of ham rind added to me. The butcher bought kerosene with me and I enriched my breath with a new combination. The oil man bought some plug tobacco with me, and I got paid out to a street sweeper. He got a drink with me, and that night when you people were at prayer meeting, I sat in a poker game, changed hands a dozen times, and the bar tender got me in the morning. He paid his car fare with me. The conductor turned me into the company and I was paid out to a machinist, who was a good Catholic, and bought fish with me on Friday. The fish man paid me to a cobbler for mending his sea boots, and the cobbler paid me to a plumber, who repaired the sewer connection for him. The plumber bought a beautiful little book with me for a birthday present for his little daughter, and the bookseller brought me here. Ain't I welcome?'"—Robert J. Burdette.

To Editors of "News," Glendale, Cal.

Gentlemen:—Having been owner of a small ranch, corner Eagle Rock and Verdugo Roads for some twelve or thirteen years, I naturally am much interested in all that appertains to the progress and prosperity of Glendale and the San Fernando Valley. While on a visit to Glendale last April in a hurried way one day I became a subscriber to your publication, which I have received with regularity and much pleasure. My reason for writing is, I will feel relieved when I have congratulated you and believe you will feel encouraged to make your paper a great blessing to the inhabitants of Glendale and the valley. I feel firm in saying that in reading our city daily for years I never read any that was so fearless, snappy and earnest for progress, both municipal and moral than your paper. May success and prosperity attend you and your efforts. Very truly yours,

SIDNEY B. DIXON

Mr. Ward will go before the voters with a clean record, says the Downey Champion. His bold stand for a fair deal to all, rich or poor alike, marks him as a man peculiarly qualified for re-election to the responsible position which he has been holding for nearly four years. In refering to his candidacy Mr. Ward says:

"While my candidacy will be along independent lines, I have tried to be the assessor for all interests whether individual or collective and I sincerely trust I have so performed the duties of the office as to merit sufficient of your confidence to justify your voting to continue me in the office for another term, when it shall be my duty as well as pleasure, to give the same attention to the interests of all taxpayers, irrespective of party, race or color, as in the past."
